Mayor's Message

Winter welcome

Welcome to this latest edition of the Marlovian. Our glorious summer has passed and we are already into the winter season, which brings further opportunities to enjoy our wonderful town. Regular events will continue, particularly in the run-up to Christmas, and by the time you receive this magazine, we will have enjoyed both the Town Council's Switch On & Shop event with Ross Kemp and the Chamber of Trade's Late Night Shopping evening. I look forward to welcoming you to Carols on The Causeway on Thursday, 19th December, and to many other activities taking place in the town during the festive season and into the New Year.

The Leader of the Council, Cllr Jocelyn Towns, has been championing the environment, and a number of key projects are under way or being developed for the town; for more details, see p8. In addition, the Council has agreed to plant the Wiltshire Road roundabout with winter flowers following the successful introduction of summer planting at this key entrance to the town.

Since May I have attended many civic functions, opened a number of new shops and businesses and visited some of the many organisations that keep this town vibrant. Most of them rely on volunteers to continue running their activities, and if you could offer some help even in a small way, I know they would be extremely grateful. Further details of most organisations can be obtained from the Town Council, Marlow Community Association or myself, email rscott@marlow-tc.gov.uk.

Thank you for all you do for our town. The Mayoress and I wish you, your families and your friends, a very enjoyable Christmas and a Happy New Year

September saw the annual Celebrate Marlow event, when we thank the unsung heroes from the town — see p12 for more details. In November, we held the annual Remembrance Service on The Causeway and it is always gratifying to see so many residents attending to commemorate the dead of two World Wars. This event is the envy of most towns in Buckinghamshire for the numbers supporting it and we were pleased that the Lord Lieutenant of Buckinghamshire, Sir Henry Aubrey-Fletcher, was in attendance to lay a wreath on behalf of the Queen.

My fundraising project to enable schools to help pupils with mental health issues is progressing. A number of meetings have been held with the senior schools and I hope to be able to report in more detail in the next Marlovian. So far I have already raised £1,300 for the cause, thanks to generous donations. If you would like to make a donation, please contact jan@marlow-tc.gov.uk or make a direct contribution to the Town Mayor's Charity Appeal account: sort code 30-95-36 acct. no. 03635900.

Thank you for all you do for our town. The Mayoress and I wish you, your families and your friends, a very enjoyable Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Town Council News

Looking after the town

A tidy town

Our community and amenities officer Barry Cross has been hard at work this summer with Community Payback, strimming overgrown hedges, siding out footpaths, weeding, litter picking and clearing up scrap metal from magnet fishing. In a two-month period they have removed over 150 one-ton bags of waste alone.

Night time patrols

A scheme to provide night patrols for Seymour Park recreation ground and Gossmore Park was agreed by Councillors as a pilot earlier this year. A highly trained, mobile patrol Security Officer from 4 Front Security visits both sites twice every night of the year. The patrols are highly visible, and the officers are not only a visible deterrent to crime but also move people on that are committing any anti-social behaviour on the sites. The operatives are also sharing intelligence with the police and gathering additional surveillance.

Christmas free parking

Marlow Town Council has arranged for free parking in all Wycombe District Council car parks in Marlow. Court Garden, Riley Road (central), Dean Street, Liston Road and West Street on 7th, 14th and 21st December.

New parking spaces in West Street

Marlow Town Council has funded two additional parking spaces that have now been marked out in West Street. This initiative was to replace the spaces lost by the installation of a crossing at The Causeway. The work was completed by Transport for Bucks.

News from the office

The Deputy Clerk, Katherine Joy, recently celebrated 20 years of service to the Council. Councillors and Officers joined together to celebrate this remarkable achievement and Katherine was presented with vouchers, champagne and flowers in recognition of her dedicated service.

Green light for red box!

The Town Council has given the go ahead for the book exchange in Newfield Road telephone box to continue. This volunteer-led project had been granted a three-month trial period in August. Thanks to a wonderfully supportive community, shelving was offered and installed by Fitz Costa's in Maidenhead, books were donated and a small local team – Alison, Natalie and Harri, checked stock and opened and closed the exchange each day. The Town Council, working in partnership with Community Payback individuals, tidied up the area around the telephone box and made improvements to the box itself. Since it opened its door the exchange has been hugely popular, with generous donations finding new homes. Our younger residents are particularly happy and have found visiting the telephone box very exciting. Town Mayor Cllr Richard Scott, commented: "Another example of volunteers coming together for the benefit of the wider community". Going forward, plans are afoot to introduce local school children's artwork, a Facebook page and Book of the Week to encourage public engagement. If you have any books to donate or would like to volunteer, please contact Katherine at the Town Council office, katherine@marlow-tc.gov.uk

Update on Town Council environmental initiative

Plan to 'Releaf Marlow' gets underway

An effort to get more trees planted in and around Marlow officially launched in November. 'Releaf Marlow' is a joint project between Marlow Town Council and local community group Transition Town Marlow. It has already drawn expressions of support from across the town.

The project has multiple environmental aims: to make Marlow an even more pleasant place to live, create more space for nature and absorb air pollution. Trees also take up carbon dioxide and provide shade in hot summers, helping to combat climate change.

Releaf Marlow volunteers are surveying the town's streets and open spaces to identify places where more trees could potentially fit. Across Marlow and Marlow Bottom there are nearly 300 public streets and spaces so the survey will take time to complete. The project is also engaging with Wycombe District Council, Bucks County Council (which owns the highways) and important private landowners like Red Kite Housing.

Following the survey, the project will aim to unlock additional funding for tree planting. This could include sponsorship of new trees by residents, who could also adopt a tree by promising to look after it for the first few years until it is established. The project has got off to a great start with a generous donation of £1,000 from the Marlow & District Wine Circle.

Releaf Marlow will also work with landowners and experts to secure permissions for tree planting. Where possible, community tree planting events will be prioritised, building on the good example of the community orchard planted in Seymour Park by Transition Town Marlow in 2014.

Councils act on town centre air quality

Marlow Town Council, along with Wycombe District Council, is taking action on Marlow's town centre air pollution problem, seeking to protect the health of residents and visitors. New signage is helping to raise awareness of the issue with the aim of getting motorists to reduce their vehicles' toxic emissions. As in many urban centres across the country, Marlow town centre has high levels of nitrogen dioxide (NO₂), an air pollutant mainly produced by internal combustion-engined vehicles. Annual average levels of NO₂ are above the legal limit in central Marlow. As a result the whole of the town centre had to be declared an Air Quality Management Area in 2017.

Wycombe District Council reports annually on levels of NO₂ and has published a plan for reducing them. Marlow Town Council joined the campaign in September, creating an advisory banner that now hangs regularly over Spittal Street. This asks motorists to be 'part of the solution not the pollution' by driving smoothly, avoiding hard acceleration, and switching engines off when stationary. In October, Wycombe District Council added its own signs at the perimeters of the Air Quality Management Area at the bottom of High Street, the western end of West Street and at Foxes Piece on Little Marlow Road. These signs alert drivers that they are entering an area of high pollution and encourage them to switch off engines when stopped.

Community group Transition Town Marlow has also been engaged in efforts to reduce Marlow's NO₂ problem. The group has been working with Sainsbury's to get 'no idling' signage put up on the Riley Road entrance to the supermarket's main Marlow store, where drivers frequently wait for sometimes prolonged periods with their engines running.

We want to hear from you!

We can all make a difference. And many of us already are. Please get in touch if you are proud of something that you have done to reduce your impact on the planet, if you know someone whose actions should be celebrated, or if you have suggestions that will help Marlow become one of the most environmentally sustainable towns in England. We will have more pages in the next issue of the Marlovian and will share some of your stories and ideas with everyone. Together we can make a real difference!

Marlow Carnival

Community joins for the fantastic High Street procession

This year's carnival was another huge success and the sun shone down on us all day long. The park was packed with visitors of all ages, many of whom made a real day of the event, enjoying the various activities and the wonderful entertainment.

Moving floats from Burford School and Celebrations Party Shop made their way through the town, with a team of Majorettes and a record number of schools in the walking parade, including Holy Trinity, Sandygate, St Peters, Little Marlow and Foxes Piece. The schools were joined by Marlow Bridge Scout group and a huge effort was made by all.

The parade was led by Marlow Mayor, Richard Scott, and Dave the Disco, who compered the event and entertained the crowds. A fire engine and several classic cars joined in as the carnival moved through the town towards Higginson Park. Up to 5,000 people attended the event, which was supported by local groups and charities, as well as businesses, and the whole day was broadcast by Marlow FM.

Stalls included Reptile Handling, Go Karts, Swing Boats, Arts and Crafts, an Assault Course and much more. Dance groups, choirs and bands performed right to the end of the day, the atmosphere was brilliant, and there was a happy community spirit.

It was a wonderful day for the whole town and we are already looking forward to 2020! We are tremendously grateful to Kier Group and Chevron who managed the road closure for us free of charge and who have agreed to do this for us again in 2020.

Additional thanks to both Holy Trinity School and Great Marlow School for allowing us to use their sites for the parade meeting points.

Celebrate Marlow

Praising the generosity of the town's community

Hundreds of people gathered at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Marlow on 29th September to celebrate the generous community spirit in the town. The event, known as 'Celebrate Marlow,' now in its third year, is put together by Marlow Town Council to acknowledge the contribution made by Marlow's many clubs, organisations and individuals to the success of the town.

Mayor Cllr Richard Scott said: "I have always believed that residents should put something back into the community in which they live. That is what you have done, some in a highly visible way and others quietly helping their neighbours.

"Community service is a duty to be taken seriously. Enhancing our wonderful town as a place to live, work and visit is a responsibility to which we should all contribute. By doing so we can support our town, and in particular, those residents less fortunate than ourselves."

The event recognised many of the town's 'unsung heroes' including The Marlow Museum, which recently celebrated its tenth anniversary; The Marlow Wombles, a group of volunteers who keep the town clean and tidy and offer gardening services where needed; and the Marlow Carnival, a hugely successful event run entirely by volunteers. One of the other guests at Celebrate Marlow and winner of an Unsung Hero Award was Alison Rae, who was awarded a British Empire Medal earlier this year for over 40 years' volunteering with the Marlow Opportunity Playgroup.

The guests enjoyed a performance by Anna Nightingale, the entertainer and singer who specialises in the golden era of jazz-swing.

The Mayor called on the community to help Marlow's schools with the huge challenge of supporting the mental health of children and teenagers. To donate to this initiative, which is the Mayor's charity this year, please contact jan@marlow-tc.gov.uk.

Remembrance Sunday

Honouring the fallen

An estimated four thousand people gathered around the War Memorial on The Causeway in Marlow on Sunday, 10th November for the Ceremony of Remembrance.

The Lord Lieutenant of Buckinghamshire, Sir Henry Aubrey-Fletcher, took the Salute in the High Street and was accompanied by his wife, Lady Sarah.

Mr Benoit Burguad attended on behalf of Marly-le-Roi, Marlow's twin town. The Marlow Town Band played as well as the choir from All Saints' Church, who took part for the first time this year, led by Rhidian Jones, Assistant Director of Music.

Rev. Dave Bull led the prayers and Town Clerk Hilary Martin read Taking a Stand, a poem by John Bailey.

Mayor Richard Scott, Mayoress Linda Scott and Deputy Mayor Bob Johnson departed for Marly-le-Roi on Sunday afternoon to attend the French town's Remembrance Service held on Monday, 11th November. In pouring rain, the Mayor laid a wreath on behalf of all Marlow residents and read a short speech. In the evening, the party was invited to the private offices of Jean-Jacques Brot, the 'Préfet of the District of Yvelines' the representative of the French Government for that District located near the Palace of Versailles - a very rare honour.

Ross Kemp illuminates Marlow's stunning Christmas lights

At another triumphant event in Marlow on Thursday, 21st November, actor and broadcaster Ross Kemp switched on the town's beautiful Christmas lights display in central Marlow to roars of delight from a huge crowd of supporters.

"I love living in Marlow," Ross said. "It has everything - fantastic architecture, a great bridge, brilliant restaurants and bars. It's a fantastic place to bring up children. But it's the people who make Marlow what it is. People here are genuine - they mean it when they say good morning, and they mean it when they smile." He talked about what he called: "The Marlow Smile," — referring to all the people who smiled at him when he first visited, and finished by quoting the Christmas greetings of Tiny Tim in Dickens's A Christmas Carol.

Crowds flocked to the event, where 'snow' was falling and coffee shops, bars and restaurants were filled with families enjoying the lights display.

Mayor Richard Scott said: "It's true that the people of Marlow make this a wonderful place to live and work, and we're proud to be part of such a brilliant community. Many thanks to our sponsors for their support, and to Ross for being a fantastic guest and starting our Christmas season in such style!"

"People here are genuine - they mean it when they say good morning, and they mean it when they smile."

Ross Kemp

A record number of sponsors, whose support ensures the lights are possible each year, attended a VIP reception at The Chequers Pub. Two special guests were Debbie Tonkinson and Susie Paterson from Alexander Devine Children's Hospice Service. They were invited courtesy of Christmas lights sponsor Open Health, a supporter of the charity, which relies on local businesses to help run the service. The two met and chatted to Ross Kemp, who mentioned their charity in his speech. "This is a very special event," Debbie Tonkinson said. "We're so delighted to be here, and to meet Ross."

Another sponsor, Simon Goldthorpe from Beaufort Financial said: "We're proud to support Switch on & Shop and to help make Marlow's Christmas lights display possible. The event gets better every year, and we're delighted to be involved."

Winter Gritter Parade

Transport for Buckinghamshire are winter-ready

On 5th October, Transport for Buckinghamshire (TfB) carried out its annual 'winter parade'. Each year, two weeks before the start of winter services, the drivers from all four highways depots take their winter gritting fleet out of Aylesbury, Gawcott, Amersham and High Wycombe on their usual gritting routes. This serves as refresher training for all 50 gritter drivers along with supervisors and staff who carry out the winter service. This is in addition to winter maintenance training, delivered to all drivers during the summer.

All vehicles have been thoroughly serviced and were inspected by the drivers to re-familiarise themselves with their machines. The gritters were then taken out on their routes so that any changes, such as route amendments, overhanging trees etc were noted and the team were able to ensure that all equipment on the vehicles is working correctly.

Once the parade was complete, the gritters were parked back in the depots in their winter service positions on call and were ready to start from 14th October 2019.

Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Transport, Mark Shaw, said: "I am sure that some people in Buckinghamshire will have been surprised to see the fleet of gritters out so early in the year when it was mild! However, I am filled with confidence that the TfB teams and winter gritting crews are ready to go when they are needed from now onwards".

Once the road service temperature is forecast to drop below +0.5°C and ice is expected to form for the first time this winter, the daily gritting decisions will be tweeted on Twitter @tfbalerts and shared on the website www.buckscc.gov.uk/services/transport-and-roads/road-maintenance-and-repairs/winter-maintenance

Look out for five newly named gritters on the network this year including Salt and Vinegar, USS Enterplough, Sir Spreadmund Hilary, Roald Plough and Obi Wan Kesnowbi.

Mature Driver E-learning

Helping older drivers to keep driving safely for longer

The number of over-70s holding a driving licence exceeded five million for the first time in 2018, and there are now over 200 centenarians still driving. Driving is an important part of life for many residents of Buckinghamshire enabling independence, especially for those living in rural areas - but as we age, driving can become more stressful. That's why, throughout October, Transport for Buckinghamshire (TfB) promoted safety awareness for older drivers. To support mature drivers and their families, TfB has developed an online e-learning module. The module contains all the information you need to retain independence and continue driving safely for as long as possible and can be accessed free of charge.

The module covers:

- Fitness to drive – recognising how changes to eyesight and age-related conditions may affect driving.
- Ability - recognise if and how your driving is changing.
- Medication – law relating to drugs and medication.
- Improving your skills – developing your hazard perception skills.
- Vehicle - choosing a car and knowing what vehicle adaptations are available.

• Licensing - information about licensing and DVLA rules and procedures.

• Driving assessments – which can restore confidence and offer reassurance to families of older drivers.

Deputy Leader and Cabinet Transport Member, Mark Shaw, said: "Experienced drivers are generally safer than those with less experience, but as we age, our health can begin to decline, including our eyesight and reaction times. There's no need to worry, though - there are a number of ways that drivers can help themselves to continue driving safely. A good place to start is by completing the online e-learning module. The module contains lots of useful information from choosing a car, adaptations to help with mobility through to hazard perception training."

In addition to the e-module, TfB also offer mature driver assessments, which may also help restore confidence, support drivers or just offer reassurance. For more information on driving assessments, and to access the free e-learning module, visit

Triangle Barbeque

Volunteers pull off another great community event

The seventh annual barbeque event held at Hanging Hill Allotment on 29th August 2019 was a huge success with over 50 people attending. The weather was marvellous – very sunny but not too hot!

All guests managed the steep pathway up to the Orchard and enjoyed the afternoon overlooking Marlow and the surrounding areas with an ample supply of food, cakes and soft drinks. The guests included the Talkback-UK group, residents of Sir Aubrey Freemantle Care Home, Marlow Rotary Gardening Club, Cllr Roy Cadman and Marlow Town Mayor, Cllr Richard Scott, along with seven volunteers from the main site that organised and ran the event. Marlow Allotment Association would like to give a special thanks to the volunteers who all made this possible.

There are plots available at both Hanging Hill and Foxes Piece. If you wish to take on an allotment, email Sylvia Miller marlowallotmentassociation@gmail.com

Allotment Prizegiving

Mayor awards competition winners

The Allotment Association held its Annual General Meeting on 7th November. Before the main business of the meeting, the Mayor thanked the Committee for inviting him to attend, and said he welcomed the regular meetings between the Association's representatives and the Town Council to exchange views and update on current matters. He has visited the allotments on a number of occasions since becoming Mayor and was amazed at the range of fruit, vegetables and flowers being grown. The Mayor presented the allotment competition winners with their trophies, certificates and cheques.

Marlow RowAbility

Marlow Rowing Club improvement project

In May, with the help of Brand Events, Pub In The Park and the celebrity chefs Tom Kerridge and Atul Kochhar, Marlow Rowing Club (MRC) launched Marlow RowAbility with the chefs' Boat Race.

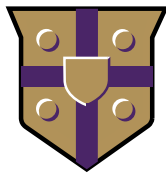

Marlow RowAbility is a project to improve the safety, accessibility and appearance of the outside space at MRC and will cost in the region of £200,000. MRC have a growing number of club members with physical, visual and mental impairments, as well as many vulnerable members who all wish to get on and off the water with ease.

The project includes levelling surfaces and installing new piling and pontoons with articulated ramps so there is step-free access to the pontoons at all points. We are also planning to rebuild the Sculling Shed to the right of the club to give us more storage and easier access to boats, as well as making it more sympathetic to its natural surroundings.

MRC will be engaging with the local community by running a series of events in 2020/2021, so keep your eyes peeled for these. To find out more or to donate to Marlow RowAbility, please visit

Rotary Club Of Marlow

Still as busy as ever helping the local community

The Rotary Club of Marlow was founded well over 70 years ago, and has never stopped — that is, its 40 or so men and women members have never stopped enjoying themselves! They have certainly never stopped trying to help the young, the elderly, and the disadvantaged in the local community, overseas, or wherever the need may be.

Rotary in Marlow

Here in Marlow we are very lucky to have three Rotary Clubs: ourselves, Marlow Thames and Marlow Bridge. Although the members of each club represent somewhat different age groups, we often work together on projects.

We all share the same ethos and the same worldwide motto of Rotary: 'Service Above Self'

This motto is clearly expressed in the aims of Rotary International:

- Serving the community, locally, nationally and globally.
- Promoting high standards in our personal and business lives.
- Working to achieve peace and goodwill worldwide.

Recent Rotary projects in Africa and beyond

Through our longstanding contacts with our four Twin Rotary Clubs in Europe, we have contributed to the following projects:

- Funding a water and sanitation scheme in Uganda
- Sending aqua boxes and shelter boxes to several natural disaster areas
- Giving financial support to orphanages in Southern India

Major Medical Oxygen Plant in Liberia

Together with the Rotary Club of Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, we and many other clubs have helped fund the construction of a much-needed oxygen plant facility following the recent Ebola outbreak in that country.

Rotary in the community in Marlow in 2019

To give an indication of the activities of the Rotary Clubs of Marlow in any one year, we list below just some of the events that took place this year, and some that are still to come before the year's end or in early 2020.

January Ploughmans & Puds Bridge Drive.

February Youth Speaks Competitions for schoolchildren to improve public speaking.

March Charity Youth Concert with the Chiltern Music Academy Youth Orchestras and Choirs.

June Charity tea for senior citizens of Marlow at the Marlow Town Regatta & Festival.

July Annual River Thames boat trip for local old age pensioners.
Day out for local young carers and disadvantaged children.

August River boat trips for local disabled children and adults.

October Annual autumn public concert with Ascot Brass and this year's choirs from Sir William Borlase's Grammar School.

Still to come in 2019

19th December Supporting the Mayor at his Christmas Carol Concert.

Book Early for 2020

17th January Ploughmans & Puds Bridge Drive.

21st March The Charity Youth Concert with the Chiltern Music Academy.

We are so pleased with the high level of support we get from the people of Marlow for all our events, which we hope they enjoy. We're also grateful for their support at the number of street collections that we help with during the year, for major charities such as the Thames Valley Air Ambulance or in respect of major disasters that happen anywhere in the world and need instant help.

Who Does What?

Who looks after you in Marlow?

It is easy to think of 'The Council' as a single entity. In fact that are three entirely separate councils that have responsibilities for Marlow, and each council plays a very different role. Do you know which council empties your dustbins, runs the Marlow Library, owns our allotments, repairs broken street lights, owns and runs our cemetery and chapel, or is responsible for Higginson Park?

We know it can be confusing. It's not always easy to find out who is responsible for what, which can sometimes be very frustrating. The information below is designed to point you in the right direction. The Marlow Town Council office will always try and help you with your initial queries and put you on the right path, even if we can't help directly. We all work together to try and ensure the best for the residents of Marlow. If you are in any doubt who to ask just telephone the office on 01628 484024.
