I recently attended a [REDACTED] meeting where the guests were from the proposed Marlow Film Studios and they talked about the positive impact on businesses in the Marlow area should the studio become a reality.

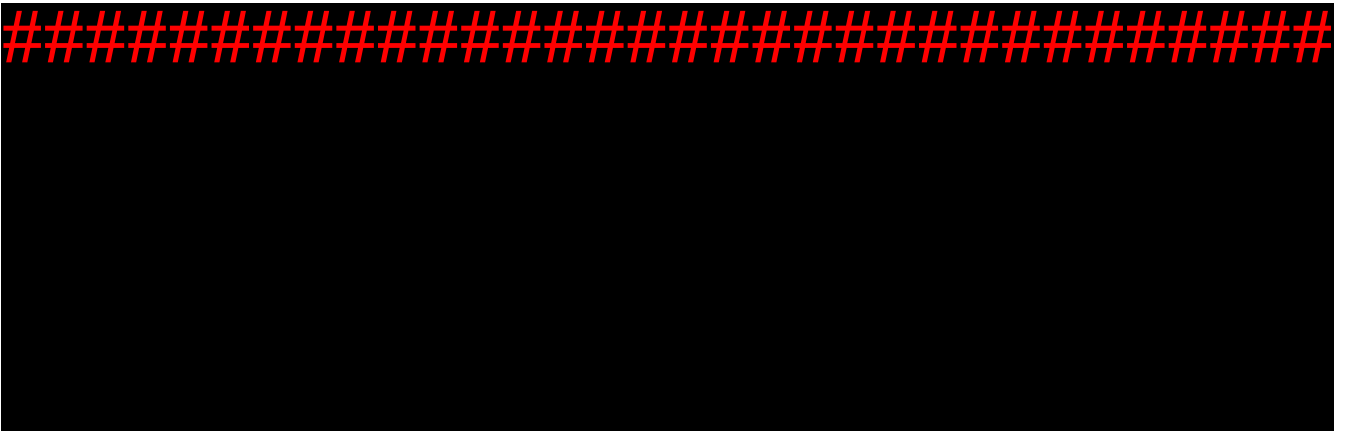

Fast forward to this week, when the Chief Exec of the studios, Robert Laycock, was a guest on The Business Show which I presented on [REDACTED]. Along side Robert in the studio was [REDACTED], [REDACTED] of [REDACTED] who are economic consultants to the studio.

There's a short clip from the show at [REDACTED]. For the full show, go to [REDACTED] or search [REDACTED] in your podcast app and it's s6 ep16.

If local people would like to be considered as guests on The Business Show, please do get in touch!

Thanks [REDACTED]

I am sure the Studio guys will have picked this up and might use it in evidence. Not sure whether or not it is in the Green Bill.

Approval for Winnersh Film Studios

Up to 1,000 new jobs will be created at new film studios that have been given the go-ahead. Production company Stage Fifty opened Winnersh Film Studios last year but its retrospective planning application has now been formally passed by Wokingham BC. An agent for Stage Fifty admitted approving it retrospectively had been "undesirable" but necessary. Oliver Bell said it was a "a reflection of the significance of the challenges posed by the fast pace of the creative industries and the limited ability of the planning system to accommodate it". He said had work not started earlier, the studios could have lost business and that might have been taken abroad.
